They who can see are they who will read the map,

They who can think are they who will understand the map,

They who can speak are they who will tell of the map,
They who can act are they who will journey where the map leads.

And they who walk where the map leads are indeed Veritas...

On any journey, a map is a key element.

On the Esoteric Journey, the individual's primary map is one that is created by their own reality.
